How did the policy originate?

- Innovative Retail Concepts Private Limited (IRCPL) understands the need for and importance of outbound team activities to build cohesive teams and increase the bonding between cross-functional teams.
- The informal team gatherings also give a good opportunity to celebrate our victories together and build camaraderie at the workplace.
- All of this in turn contributes towards building trust and improving performance of individuals, teams and the organisation as a whole.
- This policy on team outings establishes guidelines for the safety of the employees and intends to help teams plan such outings more efficiently.

What is the applicability and scope of the policy?

- The policy is applicable to all the employees of IRCPL who are going for company-facilitated team outings.
- The guidelines are also applicable to the team members on contract and interns who would be a part of the team outings.
- No external member should be a part of company regulated team outings.

Note: The scope of this policy is restricted to those outings which have been approved by the relevant approving authorities within IRCPL and is not applicable to individuals or groups who are going for personal trips or recreational activities. Outings planned on personal capacities and/or those carried out without prior approvals would not be considered as company-facilitated outings.*

What do we intend to achieve from the policy?

- Motivate and guide teams to organise team outbound activities by defining the process, approvals and guidelines for planning and executing team outings.

What are the points to note?

- The outing and the activities included should focus on fostering teamwork and bonding, building trust and team cohesion, increasing motivation and improving collaboration.
- All the outings should be a Day-out and the duration of the outing must be within the timeframe of 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. on the same date considering the safety of the employees.
- While it is recommended that the team outings should be a single day activity, in case of overnight stay or stay beyond 1 day, following points would be applicable:
 - The respective MC members are required to accompany the team.
 - The group size should not exceed 50.

- The maximum duration of such team outings can be 2 days/ 1 night (including travel).
- In case of overnight stay, the travel should be made during daylight hours.
- Planning should be done at least 1 month in advance to enable smooth execution of the entire outing including venue identification, expense allocation, plan for the activities, arrangement for R&R activities (if any).
- Discussion and formal approval for the expenses, dates and venue of travel should be made a month in advance with the respective MC members.
- The expense should be determined and allocated efficiently. Treating company's resource as your own can be considered as a thumb rule to define and allocate the expense.
- The permissible budget limit for the team outings would be INR 6,000 per participating employee per Financial Year. This includes transportation, accommodation, food and beverages, giveaways (merchandise, certificates, trophies) and all other incidental costs.
- Participating employees should not spend resources from their personal end, be it monetary or otherwise, for the facilitation of company sponsored outings.
- This overall expense should be approved on an email by the respective MC members.
- The HRBP concerned should be informed in advance about the scheduled date, time, participants and activities of the planned team outing.
- The proposed expense should take into account the number of team members attending the Team Outing and not the overall team size.
- Unutilized budget of a particular year lapses at the end of the FY and cannot be carried forward to the subsequent year.
- It is always suggested to choose a unique team outing that is different than the last time and one that will help the employees get memorable experiences.
- Team outings should not incorporate any high-risk activities including adventure sports, treks, amusement park rides (dry and water-based) etc.
- Employees should exercise utmost caution around water bodies like swimming pools, rivers, lakes, seashores etc.
- Whenever team outings are planned around water bodies, the team size should not exceed 20 in number in the vicinity of the water body at any given time.
- If employees take up any water-based activity they should be accompanied by professionals or be in and around rescue professionals (such as lifeguards).
- Employees should ensure that they utilize all appropriate safety equipment while undertaking any activity.

- It is suggested to arrange for/ ensure availability of a first-aid kit, any critical medicines or any medication that might be required during travel for the team.
- Company's projects team will arrange for the employees to travel from the office to the venue and back. The request should be sent to them 3 weeks in advance.
- Shared travel arrangements will be made for the employees and no request for personal vehicles or individual pick-up and drop will be accommodated.
- Carrying bulky, inflammable, prohibited and risky items during the outing is strictly prohibited.
- Being the brand ambassadors of the company, employees are expected to conduct with their colleagues, instructors, staff members and any other individuals amicably and professionally at all times throughout the outing.
- Having fun should not be done at the cost of comfort and dignity of anyone else present at the vicinity. This holds good for other colleagues, venue staff members, other guests at the venue, or anyone else.
- Any violation of any of the clauses of the policy will call for disciplinary action.

What are the necessary actions to be taken?

- Approval on the date, duration, team size and expense for the outing should be secured from the respective MC members within the timeframe mentioned in the document.
- The request to the projects team should be sent for making travel arrangements within the timeframe mentioned above.
- The below timelines outline the minimum processing duration for expenses once all required documents and approvals have been shared with the Finance Team.
 - For Advance Payment: Minimum of 3 working days after receiving all required documents and approvals.
 - Final Payment: Minimum of 1–2 working days after submitting the final tax invoice and all supporting documents.
- There would be no exceptions to the guidelines defined in the policy.
